

PH.D. WORKSHOP: THE COMPARATIVE POLITICS OF EUROPE

27 - 28 June
2022

The Robert Schuman Centre at the European University Institute is pleased to announce the Graduate Research Workshop on the Comparative Politics of Europe, 27-28 June, 2022. The workshop, led by Liesbet Hooghe, Gary Marks, Julia Schulte-Cloos, and Eroll Kuhn, is an opportunity for Ph.D. students to present and receive feedback on their dissertation research in a constructive environment.

Ph.D. students writing dissertations on the comparative politics of Europe or the European Union are invited to apply for one of twelve fellowships which cover economy travel expenses, local accommodation, and meals.

Graduate students selected to participate in the workshop will present their research and participate in all workshop activities.

Applicants will be informed by 15 April, 2022. Participants will then be invited to submit a chapter, paper, or outline (flexible length: 2,000 to 10,000 words) related to their dissertation by 1 June, 2022.

To apply, submit by 1 April, 2022:

- A one-page outline of your dissertation
- A Curriculum Vitae
