

The Chair of Comparative Political Science (Prof. Dr. Nicole Bolleyer) at the Geschister Scholl Institute of Political Science at the Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität Munich (LMU) is advertising with a start date of 1st April 2023 the position of a

Doctoral or postdoctoral researcher (m/f/d)

The position (65%, TV-L E13) may be filled as a postdoctoral position by a candidate with a doctoral degree or as an independent doctoral position.

Job Description

The independent implementation of a postdoctoral/doctoral research project in the comparative social sciences and contribution to joint research projects at the chair.

Publication of research results (individually and in teams).

Provision of teaching in the area of comparative and/or European politics (4 'Semesterwochenstunden', equivalent to 2 x 90-minute weekly sessions per semester on average).

Contribution to administrative tasks at the chair.

Job Requirements

An excellent dissertation or an excellent MA degree in the comparative social sciences is essential, preferably in the area of comparative political science.

Research goals in the comparative social sciences, preferably in thematic areas relevant to the chair. These include the comparative study of democracy and democratic institutions and the comparative study of European societies, particularly political and/or social organizations in established democracies (parties, interest groups, civil society organizations, etc.). See for more information about the areas covered by the team: <https://www.en.gsi.uni-muenchen.de/chairs/comparative/index.html>

A good knowledge of cross-national data analysis (quantitative and/or qualitative). Knowledge in advanced quantitative methods is desirable.

Fluency in either German or English is essential; fluency in both is desirable.

Excellent organizational skills and the ability to work independently and in teams.

Our Offer

Pay is based on TV-L 'Entgeltgruppe' E13. This post is part-time (65%) with 26,065 hours per week.

The post ought to be filled by 1st April 2023 and is restricted to a duration of two years (probation 6 months), with the possibility to extend the post for one more year.

Your workplace will be in the center of Munich and is well connected through public transport. Severely disabled applicants will be given preference if they are otherwise essentially equally qualified. LMU has signed the "Charter of Diversity" and is committed to the diversity of its employees. We therefore actively promote equality between women and men. More information on the Family Service of LMU can be found here.

Your Application

Please submit the following (in German or English):

Cover letter (max. 2 pages)

CV

Diplomas

Contact information for two referees (referees will be contacted only at the interview stage)

Outline for a 3-year doctoral/postdoctoral research project (max. 3 pages excluding bibliography)

The submission deadline is 30th October 2022. Please submit your application per Email (in 1 PDF, max. 5MB) to the Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität Munich, Chair for Comparative Political Science, Ms. Zwerger, sekretariat.bolleyer@gsi.uni-muenchen.de. Shortlisted candidates will be contacted to arrange dates for interviews that are currently planned for Wednesday 9th November 2022.

If you have any questions, please get in touch with Professor Dr. Nicole Bolleyer (Nicole.Bolleyer@gsi.uni-muenchen.de).